

that the assistant district attorney "extended the compliments of the season to Mr. Weeks." A demand upon a police sergeant for service of a bench warrant for the arrest of Dodge was rejected by that officer, with the excuse that he would "have to see Mr. Moadoo first." Another appeal to the assistant district attorney brought the reply that Dodge had no desire to see the attorney, that he had not retained him and that he was satisfied to be without counsel. Before giving up the struggle early this morning Mr. Weeks said the proceeding was "worthy of Russia." The counsel was being withheld from Dodge against his will, in hope that a statement might be drawn from him before he was arraigned in court.

At the conclusion of the conference at police headquarters Dist. Atty. Jerome said that Mr. Weeks and Mr. Hummel had been denied admission because Dodge had retained ex-Asst. Dist. Atty. James W. Osborne as his attorney. He said that Mr. Osborne had been at police headquarters since the arrival of Dodge and had heard everything that had taken place.

Mr. Osborne and Dist. Atty. Jerome called at the Broadway Central hotel during the forenoon, and had another lengthy conference with the prisoner.

CAUGHT RED HANDED.

Woman Shop Lifter Got Off Easy After Stealing Articles Galore.

A woman shop lifter was caught red handed yesterday afternoon in Z. C. M. I. by Detective Cummock, taken to the superintendent's office and searched. On her person were found a couple of silver pitchers, and quite a collection of dry goods that she had stolen from Auerbach's and Cohn's stores. She was detected by Officer Cummock helping herself to a number of handkerchiefs in Z. C. M. I. and of course these were recovered. The woman was all riled up for such work, carrying a satchel in one hand over her cloak, while inside the cloak was a second satchel which could be opened and closed with a string from without.

The stolen property was taken from the woman, and restored to the rightful owners. No arrest was made as the offender is the wife of a respectable man working for a State street house, and who has a home here. Other large houses report minor troubles with shoplifters. A girl picked up a girl left a worn out cloak, after replacing it with a brand new one from the racks and for which they did not pay. But on the whole, there has not been as much thieving as was anticipated.

During the absence of Mrs. Peterson, who was doing her Christmas shopping in the city, and her husband, who was at work at the smelter, the burglars gained entrance to the house by means of a broken window. They secured $12 in cash, and had pilfered a large amount of clothing, jewelry and household effects to take with them, but they were frightened away by the return of Mr. Peterson, and left all of the plunder, except the money, lying on the floor. The sheriff detailed two deputies to work on the case.

BAD MONEY MAN.

Judge Marshall Sent Him to Prison For Two and a Half Years.

For the man who furnished the kit of tools and the bad money, Judge Marshall in the U. S. district court, this morning meted out a much longer sentence than that imposed on Jed Grant and Rue Smith, who with Andrew Christensen were indicted by the grand jury for passing counterfeit coin.

Christensen came up for sentence today, and after hearing a little testimony as to the amount of money paid by Grant to Christensen for the coins, a sentence of two years and six months, with a fine of $100, was passed upon the defendant.

Grant a few days ago was sentenced to serve fifteen months and pay a fine of $100, and Smith to serve one year and a day, and to pay a fine of $50, for their part in the bad money game.

The men will be confined in the state penitentiary at hard labor during the period of sentence. The costs of the case are added to the fine in each instance.

UTAHNS HOME FOR CHRISTMAS.

Hon. C. W. Penrose and Others Reach Salt Lake This Morning.

SENATOR KEARNS ALSO BACK.

Hon. John Henry Smith Missed Train At Chicago and Will Not Reach Here Until Tomorrow.

Hon. Charles W. Penrose, one of the witnesses before the senate committee on privileges and elections, returned home this morning, accompanied by Chairman Spry of the Republican state committee, Ben E. Rich and several others. Hon. John Henry Smith, who traveled with them as far as Chicago, missed his train there and was therefore delayed 24 hours. He will be back, however, tomorrow morning.

Mr. Penrose reports an enjoyable trip save for a bad cold contracted while in Chicago. He says the committee treated the witnesses with every consideration and that as far as he could learn, there seems to be a disposition east to accord the "Mormon" people fair treatment, despite the prejudice that has been stirred up through the Smoot case. Senator Thomas Kearns also returned this morning.

MUST GO TO MONTANA.

Mail Robber and Broncho Buster Will Be Sent to the Copper State.

William Herold, professional mail robber, broncho buster and for a long time leader of a life of the hunted, was today ordered transferred to the District of Montana by Judge Marshall, to be tried there on the charge of forging a name to a postal money order, after having called for mail belonging to another man, whom he claimed to be.

Herold was captured by Marshal Smyth while on a visit to his mother a week ago. He had eluded the postal detectives for 18 months, after securing the money for which he was wanted. It is stated that upon his return to Montana he will face other charges of a similar nature to the one on which he was arrested.

SAFE BLOWERS DID IT.

Blew Open the Strong Box of the Lehi Tithing Office and Robbed it.

(Special to the "News.")

Lehi, Utah, Dec. 24.—Some time during the night burglars effected entrance to the Bishop's storehouse in this city, and after getting in, drilled a hole in the top of the safe, into which they poured black powder and then blew the safe open. John Stoker, tithing clerk, had left about $75 in gold in the safe, and this they took, together with about $400 in coupons on the People's Co-op and Lehi Mercantile Co. There is absolutely no clue to the perpetrators of the daring deed, but from the manner in which they went about it, it is safe to assume that they understood their business. The officers have the case in hand and are doing everything possible to locate the guilty party or parties.

JUGGLER IS JUGGED.

Dunned a Man as "Manager Skinnem," Went to Jail But Got Out.

He knew juggling as they do it in the theater, but as for the malls, that is another story, and now he is waiting to be tried by U. S. Commissioner Maloney at Ogden.

Frank Comar is the defendant. He is a juggler on the Utahns Park circuit, and appeared in Salt Lake last week, and in Ogden this week. He started his turn on the stage late last night because of a visit which U. S. Marshal Smyth made to his quarters before the performance.

Christmas Happiness.

MERRY XMAS TO YOU ALL.

THREE CROWN

"Best of the Good Ones."

Hewlett Bros. Co.

It appears that Comar, with no idea that he was violating the postal laws, addressed two postal cards to the manager of the Empire theater, Colorado Springs, Colorado, dunning him for money, which he claims the manager had "done" him out of. One of them was addressed to "Manager Skinnem" at Colorado Springs, and the other to the "Abbot Hotel, Denver, Colorado." Both were mailed in Salt Lake, and it is alleged in the complaint, which is signed by U. S. Attorney Pencil Cherrington, that both contain matter defamatory in character, and intended to reflect on the character of another, to wit, the manager of the Empire theater, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Comar appeared yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Maloney, and was released on his own recognizance, to appear and furnish bonds this morning. The case appeared to the court as one in which no malice aforethought directed the act, and therefore he was inclined to deal lightly with the defendant. His releasing him without bail was done so that he might appear at the theater and go through his role as usual.

LAID IN THE GRAVE.

Body of Young Newspaper Man Placed in Tomb With Impressive Service.

The funeral of Rudolph R. Schuller, Jr., the young newspaperman whose sad death occurred on Thursday afternoon, was held this morning at 11 o'clock at the family residence, 437 south East Temple street. Dean Edlund conducted the service, and spoke feelingly of the high character of the young man, and gave tender words of sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The pallbearers were M. S. Cunningham, A. G. Mackenzie, Louis Sherwin, Murray Schick, H. S. Harper, W. H. Bramel. The interment was at Mt. Olivet cemetery, where the remains were followed by a large number of friends of the deceased, and local newspaper men. The floral tributes were many in number, and elegant in design.

FINAL WORD BY KEITH-O'BRIEN CO.

THE hour of writing the store is filling up with buyers. The crowd is steadily assuming proportions hitherto attained by no other one day assemblage of Christmas shoppers. By late this afternoon it will be a seething throng keyed to the highest point of expectancy, happy, animated, and thrilled with the spirit which the last hours of Christmas buying awaken. It is easy to contemplate what the night will bring forth. Great as will certainly be the concourse of eager buyers our perfect system will enable us to adequately handle it. Order and courteous attention, without crowding a customer, will render the closing hours delightful.

Not opening for three nights and closing at 9:30 the two other evenings finds our corps of enthusiastic assistants in admirable spirits—devoid of that wan and listless appearance indicative of an overworked system. Beginning with last Saturday and continuing throughout the days of this week, trade has been exceeding heavy. The record has been broken. A new and a different one to break a year hence is being established. Such a magnificent volume of business was not within the scope of the management's highest anticipations.

We are enthused. We are wrought to a feeling of deepest appreciation. The people are kind and most generous. With unanimity of accord the public want to see this institution succeed.

Visit the store this evening and from the balcony view the interesting scene below.

NOTE—On Friday the section for Ladies' Neckwear sold $502.85 in Collars alone. This is but an example of the stupendous business the public is vouchsafing us.
